Sarah White

Category: Tier 2 — Mobiliser Status: Active Location: Epping, Essex Affiliated Groups: Pink Ladies (co-organiser), Advance UK (organiser) Monikers: None known

Semantic Summary

Sarah White is a far-right street activist and mobiliser who co-organised the Pink Ladies anti-immigration movement alongside Orla Minihane, leading sustained protests at the Bell Hotel in Epping, Essex from summer 2025. She represents the Advance UK organisational strand of the Pink Ladies movement — while Minihane brought the Restore Britain/Reform UK political connections, White brought the Advance UK far-right splinter infrastructure. She has been arrested at an Epping protest and gave interviews to GB News defending her actions. White has been documented at the Polish Independence Day march in Warsaw, where Searchlight Magazine described her "drooling over Tommy Robinson." She speaks from the stage at Pink Ladies events alongside Nick Tenconi (former UKIP leader, accused of Nazi salutes), and was named in the HOPE not hate February 2026 intelligence case file on Local Anti-Migrant Groups alongside Minihane as a movement leader. She also appeared at the Crowborough anti-asylum demonstration in January 2026, speaking from the stage alongside Advance UK figures and Raise the Colours' Ryan Bridge. White embodies the Advance UK-to-Pink-Ladies pipeline — a mobiliser who bridges the splinter-party organisational infrastructure with the street-level women-led anti-migrant protest movement, demonstrating how far-right groups exploit gender-framed activism to normalise ethno-nationalist street action.

Background

Sarah White is a far-right activist and street mobiliser based in Epping, Essex. Described by Searchlight Magazine as a "loud-mouthed, far-right Advance UK Epping organiser," she came to prominence in summer 2025 as a co-organiser of the Pink Ladies movement, the anti-immigration women's group that emerged following the attempted sexual assault of a 14-year-old girl at Epping's Bell Hotel.

White co-led the sustained protest campaign at the Bell Hotel alongside Orla Minihane. While Minihane brought the political connections (Reform UK vice-chair, Restore Britain spokeswoman, Deloitte consultant), White represented the Advance UK organisational infrastructure — Advance UK being the splinter party from UKIP led by Ben Habib, which operates as a vehicle for hardline anti-immigration street politics.

White has organisational discipline beyond the Pink Ladies: she is a listed organiser for Advance UK, attends international far-right events (Polish Independence Day march in Warsaw), and has been photographed alongside Tommy Robinson. Her arrest at the Epping protests added to her credibility within far-right circles, and she leveraged media appearances on GB News to amplify Pink Ladies messaging.
