

Marti Blagborough

Marti Blagborough

Semantic Summary

Marti Blagborough is a Yorkshire-based right-wing activist and YouTuber who claims pioneer status within the UK auditing scene, having been labelled "The Godfather of UK Auditing" by supporters. Approximately 30 years old and based in Yorkshire with significant activity in Sheffield, Blagborough was among the earliest adopters of the UK auditor format, reportedly inspired by two Manchester-based influencers, and has described getting an "unbelievable buzz" from the confrontational interactions that define the genre. He was profiled prominently in the Sheffield Tribune's "The Dark Knights of Sheffield" investigation into UK auditing culture, which examined the phenomenon's growth and impact. Blagborough operates within the interconnected protest-coverage and activist-media space, collaborating with channels including Society X and appearing alongside fellow auditors at demonstrations. His X/Twitter account has been suspended, suggesting enforcement action for policy violations. The "Godfather" nickname, while seemingly self-aggrandising, reflects his early-adopter status in a scene that has since expanded dramatically with the rise of migrant hotel auditing and anti-migrant protest coverage. Unlike the higher-profile hotel auditors who emerged later and attracted Reuters and Channel 4 investigations, Blagborough's profile predates the asylum-hotel audit boom, positioning him as a transitional figure between the older police-station auditing tradition and the newer, more explicitly political anti-migrant content ecosystem.

Platform: YouTube Category: UK right-wing / Auditor / Protest Activism Status: Active Real Name: Unknown (Marti Blagborough may be a pseudonym) Age: ~30 (as of 2024) Location: Yorkshire (operates heavily in Sheffield) Nickname: "The Godfather of UK Auditing"

Overview

Marti Blagborough is a UK-based right-wing activist and YouTuber who describes himself as one of the pioneers of UK auditing. He is approximately 30 years old, based in Yorkshire, and spends significant time in Sheffield filming auditing content. He has described getting an "unbelievable buzz" from the confrontational nature of auditing.

Blagborough appears to operate in the protest coverage and activist media space, producing content around demonstrations, counter-protests, and immigration-related issues. He reportedly began auditing several years ago, inspired by two Manchester influencers, making him one of the earliest adopters of the UK auditor trend.

The name "Marti Blagborough" may be a pseudonym.

Media Coverage

Blagborough has received significant local media attention:

- Sheffield Tribune — Featured prominently in a major investigation titled "The Dark Knights of Sheffield" (by Dan Hayes) which explored the UK auditing phenomenon. The article described him as "a 30-year-old Yorkshire YouTuber who spends a lot of time in Sheffield" and quoted him saying he gets an "unbelievable buzz" from auditing. The investigation covered how he was inspired by two Manchester-based influencers to begin auditing.

Notable Content

- "Marti Blagborough, The Godfather of UK Auditing" — a feature video by another channel profiling his role in UK auditing (tagged #NUNYABIZNESS #COPWATCHER #EXPOSINGTYRANTS)
- Regular protest coverage and commentary
- Anti-immigration / right-wing political content
- Collaboration with other channels in this space including Society X
- Content referencing Ash Phillips and Civil Behaviour Order (CBO) controversies relating to auditors

Social Media Presence

- Twitter/X: @MartiBlagi — Account has been suspended by X/Twitter. This suggests enforcement action against his account.
- YouTube: Channel YouTube handle appears to be /@martiblagborough

Controversies

- Twitter suspension: Account @MartiBlagi was suspended by X/Twitter, suggesting policy violations or community guideline enforcement
- Godfather of UK Auditing: Referred to as the "legendary figure" and pioneer of the UK auditor scene

- His content has been documented by the Sheffield Tribune in a critical investigation into UK auditing culture
- Collaborates with the far-right protest and auditor ecosystem

Links

- YouTube: <https://www.youtube.com/@martiblagborough>
- Twitter (suspended): <https://twitter.com/MartiBlagi>

Last updated: 11 June 2026

Revision #1

Created 2026-08-21 11:55:42 UTC by Admin

Updated 2026-08-21 11:55:42 UTC by Admin