

Harry Hilden & Dean Phillpott — "The Chuckle Brothers"

Harry Hilden & Dean Phillpott — "The Chuckle Brothers"

Semantic Summary

Harry Hilden and Dean Phillpott, nicknamed "The Chuckle Brothers," are street-level organisers within the Kent Nationalist Movement, operating primarily in Maidstone. They are involved in grassroots nationalist organising at a local level. No substantive web presence was found across multiple search queries (July 2026), indicating these are low-profile, Tier 3 figures with minimal digital footprint.

Overview

Field	Detail
Names	Harry Hilden, Dean Phillpott
Nickname	"The Chuckle Brothers"
Group Affiliation	Kent Nationalist Movement
Location	Maidstone, Kent, UK
Role	Street-level organisers
Tier	3
Active Since	Unknown
Online Presence	Minimal / none found

Background

Harry Hilden and Dean Phillpott operate as a pair within the Kent Nationalist Movement, a regional nationalist/far-right group active in Kent. They are described as "street-level organisers," suggesting they handle on-the-ground activities such as leafleting, protest coordination, recruitment, and local meet-ups in the Maidstone area.

Their nickname "The Chuckle Brothers" is a reference to the British children's TV comedy duo (Paul and Barry Chuckle), likely used mockingly by rivals or self-deprecatingly within their circle. There is no indication this is a formal group name — it appears to be a nickname for the pair.

The Kent Nationalist Movement appears to be a regional nationalist organisation, distinct from larger national groups. Its specific ideology, size, and history are not publicly documented in searchable web sources.

Timeline

- Unknown date: Hilden and Phillpott become active in Maidstone organising
- July 2026: No discoverable web presence; appear to be extremely localised figures

Sources

- Task briefing context (July 2026)
- Web search returned no results for: "Harry Hilden Dean Phillpott Kent Nationalist Movement Maidstone", "Harry Hilden Kent nationalist activist Maidstone", "Dean Phillpott Kent nationalist far right Maidstone"

Revision #1

Created 2026-08-21 11:40:24 UTC by Admin

Updated 2026-08-21 11:40:24 UTC by Admin