peirs corbyn

peirs corbyn

Last updated: 2026-07-14 22:41

Semantic Summary

Piers Corbyn is a 79-year-old British anti-vaccine campaigner, scientist, and politician who is best known as the brother of former Labour Party leader Jeremy Corbyn. He has been a prominent figure in UK politics for years, particularly due to his controversial stance against vaccination mandates during the COVID-19 pandemic. In July 2026, he announced his candidacy for the Clacton-on-Sea by-election, positioning himself as an independent alternative to established parties and Reform UK leader Nigel Farage. His campaign emphasizes "genuine, independent scrutiny" in Parliament and proper representation in science and politics.

Basic Information

- Type: Person
- Role: Anti-vaccine campaigner, scientist, political candidate
- Status: Active (campaigning for Clacton-on-Sea by-election)
- Location: Based in the UK; previously served as a councillor in the London Borough of Southwark
- Known for: Anti-vaccine activism, challenging Nigel Farage in the 2026 Clacton by-election, being Jeremy Corbyn's brother
- Affiliations: Former member of the Labour Party; formerly a councillor in London Borough of Southwark

Background

Piers Corbyn is the brother of Jeremy Corbyn, who served as the leader of the UK Labour Party. He has been involved in politics for many years and was previously a member of the Labour Party, serving as a councillor in the London Borough of Southwark. However, his political career has been marked by controversy, particularly regarding his anti-vaccine views.

In 2020, Piers Corbyn was found guilty of breaching coronavirus restrictions at an anti-lockdown gathering, which drew significant public attention and criticism. This incident further cemented his reputation as a vocal opponent of government health measures during the pandemic.

In July 2026, Piers Corbyn announced he would be standing in the Clacton-on-Sea by-election against Nigel Farage and Reform UK. The by-election was triggered when Farage resigned as the MP for Clacton. Corbyn stated that his campaign is about "proper representation and accountability in both science and politics" and described himself as offering "genuine, independent scrutiny" in Parliament. He emphasized that he has no party machine or spin, positioning himself as a candidate who will fight directly for Clacton residents.

Corbyn posted a video on his X (Twitter) page showing him standing in front of Winston Churchill's statue in Parliament Square, declaring he would be "standing to win, because you've got to have real change in parliament." He also claimed that Nigel Farage "isn't what it says on the tin," suggesting skepticism about Farage's political credentials.

The Clacton-on-Sea by-election is expected to take place on August 13, 2026. Corbyn faces competition from several other candidates, including former actor Laurence Fox, independent candidate Ollie Granger (who later withdrew), satirical candidate Count Binface, and Clacton-born reality TV star Luke Worley. The contest is expected to feature a mix of establishment parties, outsider candidates, and novelty entries on the ballot.

Tags

- anti-vaccine
- politician
- scientist
- labour-party
- clacton-by-election
- nigel-farage
- reform-uk
- controversy
- councillor
- uk-politics

Sources

- Brother of former Labour leader to stand in Clacton by-election — Jeremy Corbyn's brother Piers has announced he will be standing in the Clacton by-election against Nigel Farage.

- □□ For those who don't already know, this is Piers Corbyn. He is standing against Nigel Farage in the Clacton-on-Sea by-election. The 79-year-old brother of former Labour leader Jeremy Corbyn has garnered controversy over recent years, particularly over his — 4 days ago
- □□ Jeremy Corbyn's brother Piers will stand against Nigel Farage in Clacton by-election — 5 days ago
- Jeremy Corbyn's brother Piers will stand against Nigel Farage in Clacton by-election — The anti-vax campaigner has announced his candidacy for the Essex seat ...
- The candidates standing in the Clacton by-election — 4 days ago
- Piers Corbyn has no place in the left — Feb 9

Generated by deep-research.py using ornith-64k

Revision #1
Created 2026-08-21 11:40:46 UTC by Admin
Updated 2026-08-21 11:40:46 UTC by Admin